Why is it worth to read this report?

Lorenza Lupini & Luca Bordoni, COOSS, IT (00:00:06 – 00:00:39):

The report is a tool containing a list of successful experiences in international project management collected throughout real surveys and real experiences in an intercultural environment, so it's important because it gives a complete and differentiate overall view about the topic and general challenges in a lot of different sectors, environments and countries.

Aron Weigl, EDUCULT, AT (00:00:40 – 00:01:06)

In order to strengthen the international cooperation in the adult education sector, civil society actors need competences that must be built up step by step. Although adult education is so diverse not only at the national level but even more so at the international level, this report manages to define the success indicators and challenges for international cooperation across countries and thus contributes to the further development of the adult education sector!

Marianna Labbancz, FHSASB, HU (00:01:07 – 00:01:29)

Very important to read this document for the first time international managers and the management bodies' members since they can get many important experiences about what kind of challenges need to be overcome in order to design and implement a successful international project.

Hans Jørgen Vodsgaard, Interfolk, DK (00:01:30 – 00:01:50)

You shall read our first project report, because it on the one hand clarifies the many challenges new project managers can meet, when they start to work internationally; on the other hand it also outlines the possible ways to overcome these problems. So enjoy the reading.

Agnieszka Dadak, FAIE, PL (00:01:51 – 00:02:27)

The "Successes and challenges..." report I believe it is worth to read especially for the beginners to see clearly that it is absolutely normal that the more projects you submit for funding the more often you fail. And this is absolutely normal, this is how it works. Even good applications do not get financed sometimes. And it is really not a reason to get discouraged. The most difficult is to start. As soon as you start you will probably continue to cooperate internationally.
